Mandir Updates

Mandir kitchen is operational now

Bhandara preparations have once again started in the Mandir kitchen. The kitchen, which had remained closed for several months due to renovation work, has now reopened.

During the past several months, while our Mandir kitchen was closed due to renovation work, we were faced with the difficult decision of discontinuing our weekly Sunday Bhandara. At that time, Mandir's devoted volunteers Shalini and Ruhul ji (Mom's Kitchen) selflessly took on the responsibility of preparing the entire Satvik Bhandara at home and bringing it to the Mandir every Sunday. Despite personal commitments and busy schedules, they ensured that devotees continued to receive prasad without interruption. They even set aside their own travel and family plans so that devotees could continue to receive prasad every Sunday. Their dedication and spirit of seva are deeply appreciated.

At the same time, we would also like to warmly highlight Prasad bhai for his many years of dedicated seva in preparing Sunday Bhandara. With sincerity, consistency, and a truly selfless spirit, he has been a pillar of the Mandir kitchen, ensuring that Bhandara is prepared every Sunday. We are grateful that he has now resumed preparing Bhandara, continuing his invaluable service to the Mandir and its devotees.

The dedication shown by Prasad and Shalini/Rahul reflects the highest spirit of seva. Their commitment motivates and inspires all of us to do more for the Mandir. Mandir's Bhandara preparation seva is not a small task. Week after week, regardless of personal commitments, busy schedules, or vacation periods, they ensured that Bhandara continue without interruption.

Renovation updates: Done in January

New Carpet in Mandir

The Mandir carpet has recently been replaced through the generous donation of Mr. Dheeraj from ISF. This seva has enhanced the cleanliness, comfort, and overall ambience of the Mandir, helping create a more welcoming and serene environment for all devotees. The Mandir sincerely appreciates this thoughtful contribution.

Thermostat Replacement:

Through the dedicated efforts of our devotees, thermostats were replaced throughout the Mandir. This upgrade will help improve energy efficiency, reduce heating energy consumption, and lower monthly utility costs. We sincerely appreciate the time, service, and commitment of all volunteers who continue to support and care for the Mandir.

Items donation drive in January:

The Mandir had shared a list of required items with devotees as part of a donation initiative, and we are pleased to share that most the items on the list were generously donated by different devotees. The Mandir sincerely thanks each donor for their selfless contributions and seva, reflecting the strong spirit of devotion and unity within our community.

We have since received many enquiries from devotees regarding further donation needs. The Mandir will update and share a new list of required items whenever there is a need through the Mandir WhatsApp group, allowing devotees who wish to contribute the opportunity to do so. We deeply appreciate the continued support and generosity of our devotees.
